I am totally opposed to any building on Green Belt Land. I understand that some building will take place in West Horndon and using the Industrial Estate for housing seems appropriate but the access routes will need to be very carefully planned. The current access opposite the station would be neither sensible or safe. 500 houses in this area is the maximum that should be built in West Horndon in order to retain it as a village. We do not wish to become a town. It is also totally inappropriate to put traveller sites in a village.
