

While we know people need homes - and jobs - maybe our Politicians should deal with the cause of this over-crowded island and put a stop to immigration.

We cannot go on allowing more and more people into this country but sadly our Prime Minister hasn't the courage to stand up to the EU.
I feel that no matter how many people vote against these suggestions the proposals will come about as did Cross Rail.

Sincerely,

Re: Strategic Growth Options consultation.

There are other considerations to be taken into account in this 'consultation', besides the destruction of yet more of our green belt.

The south-east is already overcrowded; many more school places would be needed; Doctors - there we have can't cope with increasing numbers, especially as people grow older; yet more cars on our roads; transport, parking which is an awful problem everywhere and the NHS is buckling under the strain.
